From the Desk of Father Davis

In his book, Abandonment to Divine Providence, Father Jean Pierre de Caussade, SJ, describes the importance of focusing on "the supreme business of life." Wouldn't it be wonderful if we could have the clarity of knowing and committing to that which should be the primordial focus of our day to day living?

The Lenten season, which we began this past Wednesday, has everything to do with reestablishing our spiritual health, getting rid of the clutter that so often distracts us as we live, and cleansing our hearts and souls from the sin and selfishness that abounds along our journey. In short, Lent is about moving ahead with the "supreme business of life."

Father de Cassaude says that "to follow Christ unreservedly, we must get rid of any love for created things. We must reach the stage when all that the world contains ceases to exist, and God is everything to us." He obviously knows from experience how the human person has a great tendency to obsess over attachments. Many "things" become important to us, even consuming us. Our ultimate priorities, the spiritual ones that have eternal significance, however, need to be rediscovered and daily kept in view. As we journey in faith, the key to our freedom in Christ is the notion of "detachment." Inner and personal freedom will be found in our detachment from the clutter which often weighs heavily upon our lives. Spiritual spring house cleaning is always a good thing! Detachment will make our focus clear. Detachment will then free us to follow Christ more devotedly and find the meaning for which we inwardly long. Heaven will, therefore, become our definitive reality; the supreme business of life.

During Lent, we are invited to use the tried and true triad of spiritual penitential practices that will help us in this quest. During this holy season we are asked to pray, fast, and give alms. Prayer, of course, gives God more room to work in our lives; it enables him to hold a greater sway over the movements of our hearts and the direction of our lives. Prayer is not just about asking for things. Prayer also includes praise, contrition, and gratitude as well. Prayer is fostered by spending more quality time pursuing God through increased acts of piety, devotion, reverence, adoration, increased church attendance, even during the week, Scriptural meditations, attending the Stations of the Cross, and praying with the saints, the heroes and heroines of our tradition of faith. Fasting, of course, also helps us reestablish our true spiritual priorities. The simplification of our food intake, i.e, eating less, helps us to remember that God is the Giver of all good gifts. The pangs of hunger and sacrifice may even help us to consider how blessed we are, perhaps even motivating us to consider our solidarity with the poor and suffering. This becomes and easy lead in to the third proven penitential practice recommended each Lent, that of almsgiving. The sharing of our resources, donations to charity, and sacrificially helping those in need, foster generosity of spirit, and cultivate a more virtuous and grateful style of life. As such, they will help us to pursue the "supreme business of life."

Today's Gospel reading presents the worshipping assembly with the account of the temptations of Jesus in the desert. The evil one tried to get Jesus to lose his focus, use his power for his own benefit, abuse his power to tempt God, and to misinterpret his mission and the kind of kingdom he would work to build. In short, the devil tried to trick Jesus into attaching himself to self-interests and a worldly view of his life and ministry, rather than do his Heavenly Father's will. Jesus stayed "detached," free from that which would interrupt God's dream of a world redeemed.

As we journey through the wilderness of life, let us be conscious of our need to stay spiritually detached from anything that could keep us from God and his plan for us, so that we can stay clear on the "supreme business of life."

Del Escritorio del Padre Davis

En su libro Abandono a la Divina Providencia, el Padre Jean Pierre de Caussade, SJ, describe la importancia de enfocarse en "el asunto supremo de la vida". ¿No sería maravilloso si pudiéramos tener la claridad de saber y comprometernos con aquello que debería ser el enfoque primordial de nuestra vida cotidiana?

La temporada de Cuaresma, que comenzamos el miércoles pasado, tiene todo que ver con restablecer nuestra salud espiritual, deshacernos del desorden que a menudo nos distrae mientras vivimos, y limpiar nuestros corazones y almas del pecado y el egoísmo que abundan a lo largo de nuestra jornada. En resumen, la Cuaresma se trata de seguir adelante con el "asunto supremo de la vida".

El Padre de Caussade dice que “para seguir a Cristo sin reservas, debemos deshacernos de cualquier amor por las cosas creadas. Debemos llegar a la etapa cuando todo lo que contiene el mundo deja de existir, y Dios lo es todo para nosotros”. Obviamente, él sabe por experiencia que la persona humana tiene una gran tendencia a obsesionarse con los apegos. Muchas "cosas" se vuelven importantes para nosotros, incluso nos consumen. Nuestras prioridades finales, las espirituales que tienen un significado eterno, sin embargo, necesitan ser redescubiertas y ser mantenidas diariamente a la vista. A medida que viajamos en fe, la clave de nuestra libertad en Cristo es la noción de "desapego". La libertad interna y personal se encontrará en nuestro desapego del desorden que a menudo pesa sobre nuestras vidas. ¡Una limpieza espiritual en la primavera es siempre una cosa buena! El desapego aclarará nuestro enfoque. Entonces, el desapego nos liberará para seguir a Cristo con más devoción y encontrar el significado por el cual nosotros, interiormente, anhelamos. El cielo, por lo tanto, se convertirá en nuestra realidad definitiva; el asunto supremo de la vida.

Durante la Cuaresma, estamos invitados a utilizar la tríada probada y verdadera de prácticas penitenciales espirituales que nos ayudarán en esta búsqueda. Durante esta temporada santa, se nos pide que oremos, ayunemos y demos limosna. La oración, por supuesto, le da a Dios más espacio para trabajar en nuestras vidas; le permite mantener un mayor dominio sobre los movimientos de nuestros corazones y la dirección de nuestras vidas. La oración no es solo pedir cosas. La oración también incluye alabanza, contrición y gratitud. La oración se fomenta al pasar más tiempo de calidad siguiendo a Dios a través de actos de piedad, devoción, reverencia, adoración, y más asistencia a la iglesia, incluso durante la semana, meditaciones bíblicas, asistiendo al Vía Crucis y rezando con los santos, los héroes y heroínas de nuestra tradición de fe. El ayuno, por supuesto, también nos ayuda a restablecer nuestras verdaderas prioridades espirituales. La simplificación de ingerir alimentos, es decir, comer menos, nos ayuda a recordar que Dios es el Dador de todos los buenos regalos. La angustia del hambre y el sacrificio pueden incluso ayudarnos a considerar cuán bendecidos somos, tal vez incluso motivándonos a considerar nuestra solidaridad con los pobres y los que sufren. Esto se convierte en una introducción fácil a la tercera práctica penitencial probada y recomendada para cada Cuaresma, la de la limosna. El compartir nuestros recursos, las donaciones a la caridad y ayudar con sacrificio a los necesitados, fomentar la generosidad de espíritu y cultivar un estilo de vida más virtuoso y agradecido. Como tales, nos ayudarán a perseguir el "asunto supremo de la vida".

La lectura del Evangelio de hoy presenta a la asamblea de adoración con el relato de las tentaciones de Jesús en el desierto. El maligno trató de hacer que Jesús perdiera su enfoque, que usara su poder para su propio beneficio, que abusara de su poder para tentar a Dios y que malinterpretara su misión y la clase de reino en que trabajaría para construir. En resumen, el diablo trató de engañar a Jesús para que se uniera a los intereses personales y a una visión mundana de su vida y ministerio, en lugar de hacer la voluntad de su Padre Celestial. Jesús se mantuvo "separado", libre de aquello que interrumpiría el sueño de Dios de un mundo redimido.

Mientras viajamos a través del desierto de la vida, seamos conscientes de nuestra necesidad de mantenernos separados espiritualmente de cualquier cosa que nos pueda alejar de Dios y de su plan para nosotros, para que podamos mantenernos claros sobre el "asunto supremo de la vida".

Father-Son Communion Breakfast

A new initiative, several months away, but worthy of mention now, is our plan to have a Father-Son Communion breakfast at Little Flower. The idea is that on June 15th, the day before Father's Day, all grandfathers, fathers and sons together, would come to a Saturday morning Mass at 8:00am, receive Communion together, and afterwards, enjoy a pancake breakfast together in Comber Hall, during which a motivational talk on the importance of the father-son relationship would be presented. More details are forthcoming.

Worshipping the Lord | Adorando al Señor

From the Office of Religious Education

Over the next two weeks, 200 young boys and girls from both St. Theresa School and the COTLF Religious Education program will be celebrating their First Reconciliation. Weekday Mass attendees may take notice of the image of Jesus, the Good Shepherd, in the sanctuary of the Church, surrounded by several small cotton sheep. These sheep were made by each of our students who placed them the feet of the Good Shepherd following their confession as a sign of their penance and "return to the Lord." Please keep these boys and girls, and their families, in your prayer over the next several days!

Lenten Stations of the Cross

The weekly Lenten celebration of the Via Crucis, the Way of the Cross, will take place each Friday during Lent at 6:00pm in Spanish, and at 7:30pm in English. All are welcome.
