Canon Law 101

For the next few weeks, I would like to reflect upon the seven Sacraments, and some of the conditions and instructions The Code of Canon Law gives us about who is eligible to receive them, it processes themselves, and what sacraments can be administered in cases of emergency.

As it is the first Sacrament the faithful receive, I would like to begin by going over the Sacrament of Baptism.

As Canon 849 beautifully puts it, Baptism is "the gateway of salvation." Can. 849 goes on to say that Baptism "is necessary for salvation, either by actual reception or at least by desire. By it people are freed from sins, are born again as children of God and, made like to Christ by an indelible character, are incorporated into the Church. It is validly conferred only by a washing in real water with the proper form of words." Wow, that's a lot to unpack! Here's one that is a little funny to wrap your head around, "either by actual reception or at least by desire." What the Canon is referring to here is the "Baptism of desire," which is a doctrine the Church hold that if, for example, someone is in OCIA and is preparing to enter the Church, and were to be tragically killed in a car accident, the Church provides that the person would have received a "Baptism of desire," in which, especially in such extreme cases, the Church considers sufficient to provide for that salvation of the soul in question. This, of course, does not downplay the greatness of receiving the actual sacrament in its licit form, but is still recognized as valid in these situations. Again, the Church says "at least by desire." When the Canon refers to "freed from sins," it points towards the fundamental concept and principle of Baptism, the removal of Original Sin and the welcoming into the Church "born again as children of God," with an "indelible character," or mark, imprinted on the soul. "I am a child of God."

To read more about what Canon Law says about the sacrament of Baptism, I recommend reading Canons 850 through 878, which covers everything from Godparents to how a parish is to keep track of the records of Baptisms through the years.

· · · The Pastor's Corner · · ·

My friends, I would like to take this time to extend my gratitude to everyone involved with the Parish picnic last weekend at the Shrine of Our Lady of Lourdes- Archbishop Blair, The Shrine of Our Lady of Lourdes, the Dan and the choir, the Knights of Columbus, the Confirmation Candidates, The Parish Council and the Finance Council, the Parish Staff, and most especially the Parishioners of the Parish- THANK YOU ALL. Although we needed to adjust our location ever so slightly because of some 'liquid sunshine', nevertheless it was a great turnout. Archbishop Blair in his homily mentioned, in summary, how we need to be missionary disciples for others. Going out into the vineyard of the world and inviting all peoples to work for the good of the kingdom. We at St. Louis de Montfort Parish are working towards that. We need to keep our eyes fixed on Christ and discover new ways we can build bridges to Him. Christ empowers us each day to do that and make a difference in the lives of others.

We have done and are doing so much here in the Litchfield Hills from this past year until now and moving forward to the future. Let us keep building bridges to Christ so that the relationships we form within our lives and invite those people to the Church may become fruitful.

Due to a recent tragedy in my family, the "Parish State of the Union" I was going to present this week, will take place within the next few weeks. This report will help demonstrate how the Parish community is growing, the improvements that need to be made, and what we need to discern for the future.

Please be assured of my prayers for all of you. And, again, thank you for all you do!

-Fr. Matt

NEWS FROM THE ARCHDIOCESE OF HARTFORD SEPTEMBER 26 - OCTOBER 2, 2026

Cathedral of St. Joseph Hosts 12th Annual Lourdes in a Day Pilgrimage of the Sick

- Story by Shelley Wolf

Catholics in Connecticut, who may be struggling with physical or mental illness or facing a tough medical diagnosis, had the opportunity right here in Hartford to wash in the healing waters that St. Bernadette discovered in Lourdes, France.

This year, those who could not make a trip to Lourdes were welcomed for the first time to the Cathedral of St. Joseph in Hartford for the 12th annual "Lourdes in a Day Pilgrimage of the Sick," which drew Catholics from throughout the state.

"This is our first year at the Cathedral and we're thrilled to be here," said Bob O'Hara, area chair of the Order of Malta. He noted the increasingly popular annual event, which drew 250 people last year, outgrew its former location at St. Peter Claver Church in West Hartford, necessitating a move to the Cathedral. "We have 300 people registered today."

"It's gaining traction all over the United States," added Mark Sullivan, a member of Malta, who founded Lourdes in a Day in Connecticut with his wife more than a decade ago.

This popular annual event in support of the sick offers the grace and healing power of Lourdes by asking for Our Lady's intercession. The Lourdes in a Day Pilgrimage is hosted by the Order of Malta, which is devoted to Christian virtue and charity by serving the sick and the poor.

Throughout the day, the Knights and Dames of Malta, dressed in red and white, provided hospitality by guiding and assisting the attendees at the Cathedral.

This year's event also included Archbishop Christopher J. Coyne, the archbishop of Hartford, as the principal celebrant and homilist for Mass; Bishop Richard F. Reidy, the b bishop of Norwich; Bishop Emeritus Peter Rosazza, also a chaplain emeritus of Malta; and Father Joseph MacNeill, a current deputy chaplain for Malta. Additionally, numerous archdiocesan priests dispensed the sacraments.

The day's activities captured the spirit of one of the world's most popular pilgrimage sites, where in 1858 as a teenager St. Bernadette Soubirous encountered the Blessed Virgin Mary, who told her to drink and wash of the waters there. Today, Lourdes is a place of Church-recognized miracles and a place that provides inner peace.

During the full-day event in Hartford, pilgrims had the opportunity to receive numerous sacraments and blessings. The day began with reconciliation and praying the rosary using Malta-distributed rosaries. Attendees also washed their hands or blessed themselves with water from Lourdes, attended Mass with the archbishop and bishops, received the Anointing of the Sick, and listened to soothing live music.

After a complimentary lunch, the day's spiritual offerings extended to time for Adoration, a Blessing of the Sick and Benediction.

During his homily, Archbishop Coyne shared Mark's Gospel story of the disciples in their boat in a stormy sea, crying out to Jesus. "Maybe you feel exhausted or frightened. Or maybe you feel abandoned. Many violent storms within us cause us to cry out in need," Archbishop Coyne said.

It might be cancer, heart disease, blindness, the infirmity of old age, or the emotional turmoil of caretaking for others, he noted, that make people feel tempest tossed.

"Jesus did not abandon the disciples. Jesus and the disciples were literally in the same boat," the archbishop stressed, and the Lord calmed the winds and the seas. "By your faith in him, may you experience peace. Your illness will not have the final word. You are in the same boat, and together you will weather the storm."
