· · · THE PASTOR'S CORNER · · ·

My brothers and sisters, over these past few weeks we have been reflecting upon “My hands, and the Hands of God”, as we have been reading the distinct parable accounts of the Kingdom of God in relation to that of a sower and the seeds. Today we read 3 other parables of the Kingdom- the Kingdom of Heaven as a treasure in the field, the merchant searching for fine pearls, and the Kingdom of Heaven like a net thrown into the sea.

First and foremost, Jesus uses Parables, as it was described in last week’s account when Jesus quoted the prophet Isaiah, about how He only taught in parables for their understanding. Its very much like what we do in this day and age in order to get a point across with metaphors. The only difference is that the Parables are more relatable to the people because, most if not all of them, do these types of things as a part of their daily work. However, as we are reflecting upon, ‘my hands and the Hands of God’ we are working to understand the Ministerial Priesthood more, and the duty that I have as your newly appointed and installed Pastor, but living up to the phrase St. Paul speaks of in his letters, “It is not I who live, but Christ who lives in me.”

St. Paul says in our second reading today, “We know that all things work for the good for those who love God, who are called according to his purpose. For those he foreknew he also predestined to be conformed to the image of his Son...” The most important point I have come to reflect on, not just in feeling and thought, but whole heartedly is that the Ministerial Priesthood is as St. John Vianney describes, “The Priesthood is the love of the Heart of Jesus.” I am a Priest because I love Jesus. This is not to say that you all don’t love Him, but the love is very unique, and in my own words indescribable and a mystery. I am conformed to Christ’s image as His Priest. My job is to be a ‘treasure hunter’- to search for the treasure in the field of the world or the pearls of great price. I give away and sell all that I have- I give up my life, and nothing I have is mine, it belongs to God. When I was ordained I fell prostrate on the floor before the Altar of the Cathedral, surrendering myself before God, making myself vulnerable for anything that God gives me and desires me to do in my Ministry- to live in peace, or to live in persecution. It was at that point that we empty ourselves, in order to be like young Solomon, and pray for “not a long life for yourself, nor for riches, nor the life of your enemies, but for understanding so that you may know what is right...” We pray to God that, “Not my will, but His be done.” For us to be filled with His grace and Spirit, in order for us to be His instruments to go and throw the net in the sea, and bring in the catch.

My friends, I am human, and subject to the same humanity you are subject to. But I am a Priest, an instrument of God’s love and mercy in the world. Help me to share that joy and grace with you, and when we do we will prepare ourselves to be the treasure collected and brought into the great storeroom where we will see God’s eternal glory.

NEWS FROM THE ARCHDIOCESE OF HARTFORD

JULY 25 - 31, 2026

New Tabernacle Opens Door to Honor God

- Story by Joe Pisani

Throughout the day, Father Jaime Maldonado sees people kneel and pray before the tabernacle in Sacred Heart Church of Southbury, a place for people to sit in silence in the presence of Jesus Christ.

Father Maldonado, the pastor of Midd-South Catholic, the Roman Catholic Parish of Middlebury and Southbury, was in search of a new tabernacle for Sacred Heart Church. The project was completed earlier this year when Jesus received a "beautiful home where we reserve the most precious gift we have — the Blessed Sacrament," he says.

"This was a very important decision because the tabernacle is the centerpiece of our church. We have God, himself, choosing to remain present with us in the Eucharist — the Body and Blood of Christ — and we have a place where we can encounter him."

Father Maldonado searched for a tabernacle that would match the modern decor of Sacred Heart Church and finally found a brass cylindrical one with a dome top through Adrian Hamers Inc. of Larchmont, N.Y., a company that specializes in liturgical art and church interiors.

The new tabernacle, which has a Celtic cross on the door and a crown on the top, had been at another parish. To match the furnishings of Sacred Heart Church, the pastor had it nickel-plated and mounted on a base of Vermont Verde Serpentine, which is a dark green metamorphic rock only found in a quarry in the Green Mountains. The base matches the church's altar and baptismal font.

The tabernacle resides in an open area to the right of the altar and is surrounded by chairs and kneelers where the faithful can meditate and pray.

"To preserve the intended design of the church," Father Maldonado says, "we wanted the new tabernacle to look as if it was always meant to be here." The church's former tabernacle, which has two glass sides, will be used as a reliquary. Another advantage of the new tabernacle, the pastor adds, is that it is "made of solid and inviolable material and cannot be removed."

"The Church has said we have a responsibility to protect Our Lord Jesus Christ to the best extent possible, just as Our Lady nurtured Jesus and protected him as a child," Father Maldonado says. "The Blessed Virgin Mary was given the mission to keep Jesus safe, even though he was an all-powerful king and the second person of the Blessed Trinity. The son of God was born a child and had to be nurtured and protected. The Eucharist is the same person."

A spiritual benefit of the tabernacle is found in its beauty, he adds. "God is beauty. His attributes are truth, beauty and goodness, and to the extent that we can see something beautiful as an expression of God, we are led to him and transcended."

The tabernacle has been well received by parishioners. "It holds Christ himself, and is not to be taken lightly," Father Maldonado says. "We should do our best to honor him, to pray to him, to appeal to him and to protect him in the tabernacle. And our job as Catholics is to lead other people to Jesus in the Eucharist."

HOLY HOUR TO PRAY FOR THE END OF HUMAN TRAFFICKING

All Saints - Todos Los Santos Parish,
The Shrine of St. Anne, Waterbury

Human trafficking is a grave offense against the God-given dignity of every person. An estimated 27 million women, men, and children worldwide are exploited through sex and labor trafficking.

The Human Trafficking Task Force of the Archdiocese of Hartford invites you to a bilingual Eucharistic Holy Hour to pray for victims and survivors of human trafficking, and for an end to this exploitation. This service, to be held on the eve of World Day Against Trafficking in Persons, will be in English and Spanish.

Following the Holy Hour, attendees are welcome to stay for the Parish's daily Mass at 6:30 P.M. or to speak with Task Force members about ways to support awareness, prevention, and survivor assistance through this important ministry.
