SAINTS WITH SAL

Sometimes saints can come to us when we are not even looking for them. This was my experience with Saint Bartholomew.

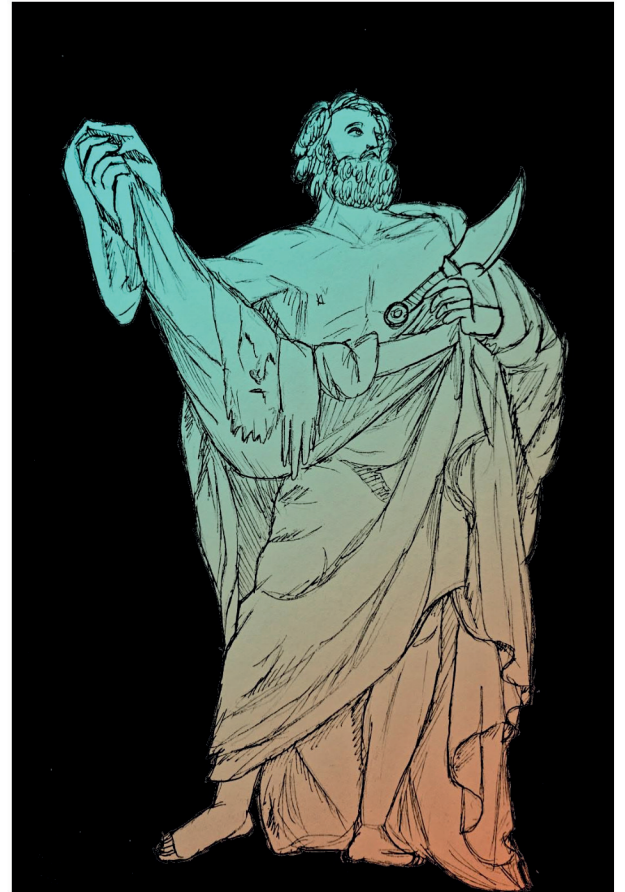

Saint Bartholomew, originally named Nathanael, was one of the twelve apostles of Jesus Christ. Bartholomew's first meeting with Jesus is recounted by Saint John. Jesus addresses him with these words: "Here is a true Israelite, in whom there is no deceit." After Pentecost Bartholomew went out to preach the word of Christ. Armenia is where Saint Bartholomew was martyred by being flayed alive. I came across Saint Bartholomew while looking up references for an art history course and was shown an amazing image of a statue of Saint Bartholomew holding his flayed skin and a knife, showing the tools of his martyrdom. That statue of Saint Bartholomew is in the Archbasilica of Saint John Lateran, in Rome. I was very fortunate to go to Saint John Lateran during my Rome pilgrimage and was able to do a drawing of Saint Bartholomew's statue, the same statue I had seen online years ago.

Saint Bartholomew, obtain for us the grace to be ever guileless and innocent as doves, Pray for us.

· · · THE PASTOR'S CORNER · · ·

'My hands and God's hands', has really been great to reflect on personally my friends. As we have been reflecting upon the ministerial Priesthood and their duty as Shepherds, after the Installation Mass when Archbishop Coyne commissioned me to listen to you and for you all to speak, I have begun to realize the Pastoral and Spiritual mission in being your Pastor. As we have said over these past few weeks, after Jesus teaches his disciples and the crowds with several parables, the fruit that is produced or the treasure that is found or the catch of fish caught, is not done by my hands, but rather the hands of God. My reliance on God is everything- from the administrative to the pastoral side of this office. Thus far though, all we have been talking about are 'things' and the work of the hands. It is now time to talk about the hands that actually reach out and physically touch.

I was in the city of Philadelphia one time while studying at St. Charles Borromeo College Seminary, and I went to Reading terminal. I got a few things including a baguette to eat while I walk. As I was walking, I saw a man on the side of the street asking for food. As I walked by him, I realized I could give him this loaf of bread. So, I went back and gave it to him, along with a few provisions. Although I did not reach 'my hand' out to him, I still offered him the gesture of my hands. In our Gospel after Jesus dismisses the crowd that He just fed, as well as the disciples in telling them to get into the boat and travel to the other side, He goes to a mountain to pray. This is Jesus at His best! I say this quite frequently, but the thing is, in order for Jesus to perform the work of the Father, He needs to pray. Prayer is the essence of my life as a Priest. Without it, I would be performing works of my own, in which I know I would fail. Through prayer, I get the best of the best and I do the work that I am compelled to do by God.

As Jesus is praying, the disciple encounter a storm which causes the boat to rock and take on water. Some may say this resembles our faith, others our emotion. In reality though, I want to say it resembles so much of life! We are never ready for anything, but we need to undergo the storm, take on the water, in order for us to learn and rely on God. When Jesus comes to the disciples walking on water, they are terrified. This fear is the fear of the unknowing. Once the disciples realize it is Jesus, Peter, the most outspoken one, calls out to Jesus and says "Lord, if it is you, command me to come to you on the water." When Jesus says, "Come" Peter goes. However, that is short lived when He begins to sink. And here it is... Jesus reaches out His hand. Jesus is extending His hand to Peter to take. Yes, Peter sank because He lacked faith, but even more so because he was unsure and needed to fail in order to succeed. But Jesus' hand was there so that He can pick him up and help him.

Jesus is reaching out His hand to us, and we need to take it! He wants us to touch His hand. No matter if we succeed or fail, we need to take it. Even if we are in boat not willing to jump ship yet and test ourselves, He still gets into the boat! Are we afraid to take the hand of Jesus? Are you afraid to take my hand? Fear comes in many forms, its only used here to encompass every possible error. By me extending my hand, as God willing, the Hands of Christ, I pray that you take it. Take it and hold on to it, and let your fear turn to becoming the prayer of confidence in God you need to succeed.

NEWS FROM THE ARCHDIOCESE OF HARTFORD

AUGUST 8 - 14, 2026

Men's Club Serves Food, Fellowship During Beacon Falls Concerts

- Story by Karen A. Avitabile

On Wednesday evenings in the summer, St. Michael Parish in Beacon Falls and its Men's Club bring the community together to unwind with live music, great food and camaraderie.

From June through mid-August, the town hosts a free summer concert series, featuring bands performing in the church's park gazebo on the grounds of St. Michael Church.

"The concerts bring everyone together in the community," says Parks and Recreation Commission member Caitlin Battis, who also organizes the performing bands. "The town loves it and the kids have a place to run around."

Concertgoers are invited to bring their own blankets, lawn chairs and picnic baskets. They can purchase refreshments from the Men's Club during the concerts.

A longstanding ministry of St. Michael Parish, the Men's Club supports the parish and the community at large.

The men sell hamburgers and cheeseburgers, hot dogs, a specialty sandwich, drinks, snacks and desserts. On occasion, they pair themed concerts with custom dishes, such as kielbasa and sauerkraut for bands playing Polish music.

Each week, the club sells some 50 hamburgers and 40 hot dogs, says club member James O'Dell, who oversees the shopping for the concerts.

Robert Maciejko grills up hamburgers and cheeseburgers. For a recent concert, he also prepared Italian sausage patties, serving them on a Portuguese roll with peppers.

"I like hanging out with the men and having a good time," says Maciejko, who cherishes the close friendships he formed during his 15 years in the group.

To kick off the concerts, Father Joy Jacob, pastor of St. Michael Parish, leads the Men's Club in a group prayer. While the music is underway, he walks the grounds and greets everyone.

"The concerts are a good collaboration between the town and the church," Father Jacob says. "People are so happy."

Men's Club newcomer Brian Malota, a culinary instructor for the state of Connecticut, conducts food handling training for the club. After a training session with the men, he was invited to join the club.

"How could I not enjoy this?" he says with a smile, taking the reins grilling hot dogs during concert nights.

The Men's Club donates proceeds to the parish, the town's food bank, the community and "anybody who needs it," says longtime member and past president Raymond Binkowski. The club previously purchased a new sign for the church.

As they volunteer, the men create a tight-knit community and a sense of brotherhood. Throughout the year, the Men's Club sponsors a Super Bowl sandwich drive, prepares refreshments for the church fair in May, organizes can and bottle drives and hosts year-round church dinners to bring parishioners together. Plus, the club is a sponsor of the town's Ron Barksdale Memorial Fishing Rodeo at Matthies Park, serving up breakfast, lunch, snacks and drinks during the event.

Father Jacob acknowledges that the Men's Club is a vital contributor to the parish and is always ready to lend a hand whenever the need arises. "It's a fantastic group," he adds.

Men's Club member Peter Betkowski, who is a lifelong parishioner of St. Michael Parish, says he feels "very blessed to be part of activities with fellow club members."

Weather permitting, concerts are held on Wednesdays at 6 p.m., June through mid-August, in the park adjacent to St. Michael Church, 25 Maple Ave., Beacon Falls. The concert schedule is published online at saintmichaelsonline.org. The Men's Club meets after the 8 a.m. Mass on Sundays except for the months of June, July, August and December. For more information or to join the Men's Club, call Karen in the parish office at 203.729.2504.
