· · · THE PASTOR'S CORNER · · ·

My friends, last week we concluded in reflecting upon the Ministerial Priesthood and transitioned into the Baptismal Priesthood- the Priesthood of the Baptized. There is no particular 'phrase' that I have come up with for this min series of reflections as we will begin a new series in a few weeks. The Baptismal Priesthood, the Priesthood of the Baptized encompasses all of us. Anyone who is Baptized shares in this unique calling- the calling to offer ourselves to Christ as He offered Himself. That is the function of Priest- to offer sacrifice; and that is done in a variety of ways. When we reflect upon our own Baptismal Priesthood, though, its different. Yes, we all are a part of the same Baptismal Priesthood as we have all been Baptized into Christ, as St. Paul alludes to; but nonetheless, how we exercise this unique 'ministry' is up to us and where we feel God calling us to.

We once were foreigners in a strange land. As foreigners we did not know exactly what to do. Most of us were in this state when we were born into this world, pre-baptism. We were still succumbed to original sin. It is only after our Baptism where we become servants of God. As the Prophet Isaiah prophesizes, "The foreigners who join themselves to the Lord, ministering to him, loving the name of the Lord, and becoming his servants...and hold my covenant, them I will bring to my holy mountain and make joyful in my house of prayer..." By virtue of our Baptism, we have been joined to Christ, and freed from the bonds of the evil one. Yes, sin still exists, but the mercy of God is greater, especially in the Sacrament of Confession.

As a foreigner, we did not know Christ. We did not know him in a literal sense due to the fact that most of us were still babies. For adults however, you may have heard Christ, but to know him means you love Him. After Baptism, for both infants and adults, we love him. This was the experience of the Canaanite woman who came to Jesus for help. She only knew 'of' Jesus by His own miracles and healings; but to know Him is to have a relationship with Him. So Jesus tests her to see if in her heart she is ready- and Jesus sees in her that she is after undergoing a simple trial. This is not to say that Jesus wants us to go through a test to love Him, but to help us to understand where our priorities are- is it just to get something from Jesus, or is it to really love Him and serve Him.

My friends, our Baptismal Priesthood allows us not to be foreigners or strangers, but rather, it gives us a unique gift of being called a child of God, and a disciple of Christ. There are so many people who do not know (love) Jesus; and it is our mission to live up to what Jesus commissions His disciples at the end of the Gospel of Matthew- to go forth and Baptize- help people to grow in a relationship with Christ. Otherwise as a foreigner, people will walk in a strange land and have no where to go. By being welcomed into the family of God we are then guided by Him to go up on the mountain and experience His salvation.

-Fr. Matt

NEWS FROM THE ARCHDIOCESE OF HARTFORD

AUGUST 15 - 21, 2026

Archdiocesan Teens Journey Together to Steubenville East Youth Conference

- Story by Shelley Wolf

Parish youth ministry groups from throughout the Archdiocese of Hartford journeyed together for the first time to the Steubenville East Youth Conference in Springfield, Mass., where they encountered Christ through the sacraments, dynamic speakers, Eucharistic Adoration and high-energy praise and worship.

Approximately 300 high school-age teens, chaperones and clergy from 16 parishes attended, boarding buses from Hartford and other points around the archdiocese for the three-day conference, slated July 24 to 26, all heading to the MassMutual Center in Springfield. The conference drew 1,500 attendees from throughout Southern New England.

"To my knowledge, this is the first time the Archdiocese of Hartford organized a trip to the Steubenville East Youth Conference to bring multiple parishes together," says Joshua Kay, associate director of Youth and Young Adult Ministries for the Archdiocese of Hartford.

The archdiocese spearheaded this year's trip and invited parishes to join in, recognizing that not all parishes are experienced with travel logistics, Kay notes. So, his office took on that role and freed up parish youth ministers for mission.

"In other words, they got to be a youth minister to their teens for the duration of the trip," Kay explains.

Father Hector Rangel, pastor in solidum for Blessed Michael McGivney Parish in New Haven, and Father Daniel Valente, parochial vicar for Our Lady of Sorrows Parish and the Cathedral of St. Joseph, both in Hartford, accompanied the teens, providing priestly spiritual support.

Before leaving town on Friday afternoon, the travelers were treated to a Mass celebrated by Archbishop Christopher J. Coyne at the Cathedral of St. Joseph in Hartford, followed by a mini retreat that included games and a keynote talk by Kay, titled "Worth the Wait," comparing what the world deems as worthy to what God says is actually worthy.

At the Steubenville East Youth Conference in Springfield, where this year's theme was "Worthy," a number of speakers shared how all are loved in the eyes of God. The teens also took part in Mass and the sacrament of Reconciliation.

The conference was an opportunity to experience the wider Catholic Church, grow in personal faith and make new friends.

For Gabriel Cardichon, 15, a youth ministry teen from St. Paul VI Parish in Hamden, this spiritual experience was a first. "This was my first ever time going to the Steubenville East Conference, but it definitely won't be the last. It was one of the best times I've ever had," he says.

The highlight for Cardichon was the Eucharistic Procession, in which priests carried Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament around the stadium for the purpose of Eucharistic Adoration.

"There was a moment where I felt especially close to God, and that was during the Eucharistic Procession on Saturday," Cardichon recalls. "It was probably because Jesus was literally right in front of me and seeing so many people my age get so emotional, which I've never seen before in my life. Usually, I don't cry happy tears, but on that night, I couldn't hold it in. Definitely one for the ages."

The teen also received a holy reminder that he plans to cherish. "The second-best moment was when I got my tiny saints (the keychains) blessed by a priest," he says. "I'll never be losing those."

Steubenville Catholic Youth Conferences are produced by Franciscan University of Steubenville and hosted by Life Teen.
