GOSPEL MEDITATION

August 16, 2026
Matthew 15:21-28

Does God ignore or act a bit rough with you? Jesus crosses the border into the pagan region of Tyre and Sidon, the territory long outside the covenant. There, a Canaanite woman calls out, "Have pity on me, Lord, Son of David." At first, he is silent. Then he rebuffs her. "It is not right to take the food of the children and throw it to the dogs." But the Church Fathers saw this not as an insult but as an initiation. Christ draws out of her heart a deeper faith.

She presses on. "Please, Lord, even the dogs eat the scraps that fall from the table of their masters." Jesus' silence and response solidify her humility and trust. She thus becomes a model for prayer for centuries of Christians. St. Augustine said she shows how sinners come to grace by moving from silence to humility to perseverance.

This woman is the Church. She is you and me. She is every soul who dares to cry out from the margins, who endures divine silence until it turns to compassion. When Jesus says, "O woman, great is your faith," it is the joyful cry of God discovering faith where the world least expects it. Even the smallest crumb of Your mercy, Lord, is enough to heal the soul. Do we have the courage to show faith like that?

— Father John Muir

Everyday Stewardship

The Jubilee Year of Mercy is now in the history books and looking back I wonder if I have been changed at all by the observance. Certainly the focus on mercy wasn't all about God's mercy toward me? Yes, I focused on my sin and the need for God's forgiveness and grace, but hopefully that changed how I live my life and how I offer mercy to others. The mercy we receive from God is not something we are to keep bottled up or hidden from others. Jesus taught us to treat others the way we would like to be treated and to love everyone, even our enemies. When Jesus healed the Canaanite woman I wonder what she did next. I would hope she in turn offered mercy and healing to others. Of course, I know she was imperfect just like me so I am sure in no time she was back to needing the mercy of Jesus. Her demon was gone, but there is always a new evil around every corner. However, the fact that we are a broken people always in need of mercy does not lessen the command for us to offer mercy. Mercy is a gift like so many others that God lavishes on us with great generosity. We are called to cultivate this and share it with others as well. If we cannot do that then what was the real effect of God's mercy in our lives? If we do not allow God to change us into more generous stewards ready to offer mercy and love to all, then perhaps we are fooling ourselves that we are true disciples of Jesus at all.

Down the road we will be looking at more permanent repairs to the parking lots at our various churches. For the time being,

I would like to thank the Knights of Columbus for agreeing to repaint the lines in our parking lots. Please, respect the lines and use only one parking space per vehicle, so that our lots may accommodate as many vehicles as possible.

There is a new ministry in our parish, which would like to acknowledge parishioners who are homebound, sick, or had an operation and have not been able to attend Mass. The parish wants the person to know that they are loved and missed by sending a card. If you would like a member of the parish to receive a card from the church, please either email or call the church office with the person's name and address and we will send him or her a card.

Prayer for Conversion in Our Communities

Dear God,
Move in our community: Bring
Your light to the darkness,
Your justice to the oppressed,
Your hope to those in despair, Your healing

more merciful, and more compassionate.
Amen.

NEWS FROM THE ARCHDIOCESE OF HARTFORD

AUGUST 15 - 21, 2026

Archdiocesan Teens Journey Together to Steubenville East Youth Conference

- Story by Shelley Wolf

Parish youth ministry groups from throughout the Archdiocese of Hartford journeyed together for the first time to the Steubenville East Youth Conference in Springfield, Mass., where they encountered Christ through the sacraments, dynamic speakers, Eucharistic Adoration and high-energy praise and worship.

Approximately 300 high school-age teens, chaperones and clergy from 16 parishes attended, boarding buses from Hartford and other points around the archdiocese for the three-day conference, slated July 24 to 26, all heading to the MassMutual Center in Springfield. The conference drew 1,500 attendees from throughout Southern New England.

"To my knowledge, this is the first time the Archdiocese of Hartford organized a trip to the Steubenville East Youth Conference to bring multiple parishes together," says Joshua Kay, associate director of Youth and Young Adult Ministries for the Archdiocese of Hartford.

The archdiocese spearheaded this year's trip and invited parishes to join in, recognizing that not all parishes are experienced with travel logistics, Kay notes. So, his office took on that role and freed up parish youth ministers for mission.

"In other words, they got to be a youth minister to their teens for the duration of the trip," Kay explains.

Father Hector Rangel, pastor in solidum for Blessed Michael McGivney Parish in New Haven, and Father Daniel Valente, parochial vicar for Our Lady of Sorrows Parish and the Cathedral of St. Joseph, both in Hartford, accompanied the teens, providing priestly spiritual support.

Before leaving town on Friday afternoon, the travelers were treated to a Mass celebrated by Archbishop Christopher J. Coyne at the Cathedral of St. Joseph in Hartford, followed by a mini retreat that included games and a keynote talk by Kay, titled "Worth the Wait," comparing what the world deems as worthy to what God says is actually worthy.

At the Steubenville East Youth Conference in Springfield, where this year's theme was "Worthy," a number of speakers shared how all are loved in the eyes of God. The teens also took part in Mass and the sacrament of Reconciliation.

The conference was an opportunity to experience the wider Catholic Church, grow in personal faith and make new friends.

For Gabriel Cardichon, 15, a youth ministry teen from St. Paul VI Parish in Hamden, this spiritual experience was a first. "This was my first ever time going to the Steubenville East Conference, but it definitely won't be the last. It was one of the best times I've ever had," he says.

The highlight for Cardichon was the Eucharistic Procession, in which priests carried Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament around the stadium for the purpose of Eucharistic Adoration.

"There was a moment where I felt especially close to God, and that was during the Eucharistic Procession on Saturday," Cardichon recalls. "It was probably because Jesus was literally right in front of me and seeing so many people my age get so emotional, which I've never seen before in my life. Usually, I don't cry happy tears, but on that night, I couldn't hold it in. Definitely one for the ages."

The teen also received a holy reminder that he plans to cherish. "The second-best moment was when I got my tiny saints (the keychains) blessed by a priest," he says. "I'll never be losing those."

Steubenville Catholic Youth Conferences are produced by Franciscan University of Steubenville and hosted by Life Teen.

The Challenge of Stewardship

Every day we are called by Christ to respond in some way. The more practice we have at giving of ourselves freely and living in His presence, the easier it is to discern that call. Once we hear the call, the choice is ours: will we respond with yes or no? We could say that we are not required to say yes because God has given us free will. However, our response speaks much to where we are in our maturity of faith. When we were children, the word "no" used to be one of our favorites. If we continue to say that as we get older, well, that says something about where we are in our walk with the Lord. If we truly are disciples of Jesus Christ and are serious about growing in our faith, we will say "yes." We are not required to say yes, but we say yes because that is who we have become. This is the challenge of a stewardship way of life. Have we matured enough to say yes when God calls, regardless of how much our answer may cost us? What matters more to us what it will cost us or our relationship with Jesus? Some days we will easily be able to say yes. The grace and love he gives us will be plenty to see us through whatever situation in which we find ourselves. However, we are imperfect beings and there will be days when we are more into ourselves than him. It is on those days that we find ourselves at a true crossroads of a challenge. The choice is always ours. Hopefully, our faith will be strong enough. His call is never for his own sake. He calls us because the world he created and the Church he instituted need us. They wait just as he does for our response.
