GOSPEL MEDITATION
November 15, 2026
Thirty-Third Sunday in Ordinary Time
Matthew 25:14-30

A friend once took his young adult son to the casino for his birthday. He handed him $100 and said, "Let's have a great time." The son, a graduate student with limited money, quietly pocketed the money and refused to play. "I don't want to lose it," he said. But he missed the point: the money was not really his to pocket; it was his father's invitation to share an experience together. God sees our gifts a bit like this. In Jesus' parable, a servant buries his master's talent and explains: "Master, I knew you were a demanding person...so out of fear I went off and buried your talent in the ground" (Matthew 25:24-25). The master condemns him not for failure but for refusing to risk. The servant's fear distorts his image of the master and leads to a small, loveless response. No love, no risk. No risk, no relationship. How easily we fall into this trap! We treat God's gifts as fragile possessions rather than invitations. We play it safe, avoid risk, and tell ourselves we are wise and God is cruel. But Jesus praises those who trust the Master's goodness enough to act boldly. They are not reckless but confident enough in their Master to risk their gifts for Him. So, what is my interior story about God right now? Is it marked by generosity, adventure, and trust? Or by fear, caution, and suspicion? That hidden narrative shapes everything. Because love, by its nature, always takes risks with, and for, the beloved.

There is a new ministry in our parish, which would like to acknowledge parishioners who are homebound, sick, or had an operation and have not been able to attend Mass. The parish wants the person to know that they are loved and missed by sending a card. If you would like a member of the parish to receive a card from the church, please either email or call the church office with the person's name and address and we will send him or her a card.

A Note From Our Pastor

This year, Advent begins on the weekend of November 28th-29th. To highlight the importance of the Advent (and Christmas) season, Holy Communion will be offered under both species. All four ministers of Communion (the priest and the three other ministers) will be stationed by the altar. The two directly in front of the altar will distribute the Sacred Host. After consuming the Sacred Host, those who do not wish to receive the Precious Blood may return to their pews. Those wishing to receive the Precious Blood are then invited to approach the ministers off to the side, where they may drink from the chalice. (Please note: it is not permitted to take the Sacred Host and dip It into the Precious Blood.)

Together We Restore What Faith Has Built Capital Campaign

Next weekend, November 21 and 22, we will take a few quiet minutes at Mass for our St. Pio capital campaign. Please talk and pray at home about a gift or pledge that fits your household's circumstances. Pledges may be spread over 36 months. We seek equal sacrifice according to each family's means, not the same amount from everyone. If you have already pledged, thank you. If a financial gift is not possible, your prayer and presence remain deeply valued. We will have cards and pens available and will explain the options together

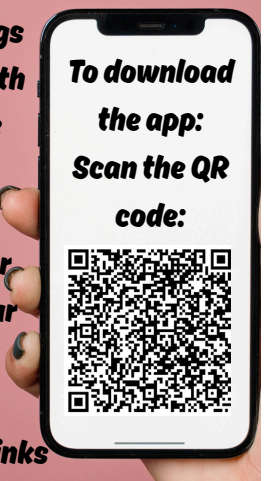

Together We Restore What Faith Has Built Capital Campaign Questions for Father Walsh

Q. How will you decide which projects will be completed and how?

A. The three projects have already been decided. If we meet our goal, we will complete the three projects as planned. If we do not reach our goal, the three projects will have to be curtailed somewhat. Once we have the budget for the projects, our building and grounds committee will prepare specs for each project. Then the project will go out to bid. Parishioners will be invited to bid on the project, but the work will be awarded to the best bid, regardless of whether it comes from a parishioner or not. Finally, after the Finance Council has made its decision, everything will go to the Archdiocese of Hartford for final approval.

NEWS FROM THE ARCHDIOCESE OF HARTFORD NOVEMBER 14 - 20, 2026

New Faith Formation Center Opens in New Haven

- Story by Shelley Wolf

Years ago, the Sisters of the Holy Family of Nazareth filled St. Stanislaus Convent in New Haven, where they lived and served local Catholics, especially as beloved teachers at the former St. Stanislaus School.

Today, the former brick convent at 15 Eld St. is finding new life as a hub for spiritual learning and growth – as the new Faith Formation Center for the sprawling, citywide Blessed Michael McGivney Parish. The first classes began there in late September.

"As soon as I walked in there, I knew this was the location," says Grace Torres, director of faith formation and parish life for Blessed Michael McGivney Parish in New Haven, who says the parish had been looking for a new place to center its faith formation efforts.

"We are one parish with eight churches. And we serve approximately 800 children, youths and adults through our faith formation programs, which bring a diversity of different cultures and different backgrounds," she says. "But the merger in itself is uniting."

"So, I feel that the Center is an opportunity to bring these cultures, these families, these needs into one. It just gives that dedicated space to all the children, youths and adults, families and catechists."

The city parish, which includes immigrants from Eastern Europe and Central and South America, has an especially diverse community. Now the Faith Formation Center is bringing them together for sacramental preparation and special events.

"We're holding faith formation programs there to start," Torres says, "including first communion, confirmation, adult confirmation and the Order of Christian Initiation of Adults, or OCIA."

Family faith formation programs, begun last year, will continue to meet at St. Stanislaus Church and St. Francis Church, much larger meeting spaces. The St. Francis campus will also serve as a second faith formation location to improve accessibility for families without transportation. Classes on both campuses are being offered in English and Spanish.

Last summer, to ready the new Faith Formation Center volunteers cleaned up the building and swapped out furnishings. The interior was repainted and recarpeted, and three smart boards were added to assist the 75 catechists. The spruced-up space now provides three floors and a finished basement.

The first floor includes four classrooms, an office, a kitchen and a chapel. On the second floor, 14 rooms present future opportunities. "We have a vision of retreats there for women, men and youths," Torres says.

The third floor houses three classrooms plus three additional classrooms for the Catechesis of the Good Shepherd program. The finished basement provides a larger gathering space for meetings and special events as well as the Polish Saturday School.

The highlight is the chapel. "It's beyond programs," Torres points out. "It's bringing children to a deeper encounter with Jesus in a very personal way. This space will also help strengthen families in their faith. The best place for that is in the chapel in the presence of the Lord."

By uniting people from across the city, the parish also hopes to create a sense of belonging and Catholic unity, Torres says, especially among immigrant families who are members of the body of Christ.

"At the end of the day, and I see that with the kids, they just want to be loved, seen and feel a part of something," she says. "And that's where we get the opportunity to say, 'You are loved, you do belong and you're not alone. We are here to help you.' So, the Faith Formation Center is a key part in continuing that message of unity in New Haven."
