Curriculum

We have continued to see evidence of the academic excellence achieved by our students throughout various competitions and in our everyday happenings around the school. This year, at the Archdiocese Science Fair, our students won 1st place in 7th grade Physical Science and 3rd place in 6th grade Life Science. In February, our students competed in our first ever DI competition, where one of our teams took home 2nd place, and moved onto the State Competition. The other team placed 6th overall, which is a huge accomplishment since we were the only Catholic School competing against all the larger schools in Klein ISD. We are also told time and time again that our students are immensely prepared for the rigor and expectations set at the various Catholic high schools in the area.

Thank you for your support as we continue to make strides in preparing our students!

I am confident that my child/ren will be prepared for the next academic year.

Culture

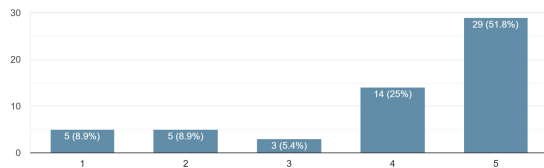

This year, we tried to separate some of the culture questions by grade level, in order to get a better understanding of how students and parents feel. However, due to the small number of responses we were not able to get a good grasp on each individual grade. We are able to see an overall high satisfaction, and we encourage more families to participate in the survey next year in order to make further improvements.

Communication

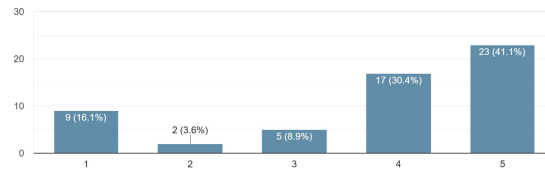

Communication appears to be an area in need of improvement. Again, this data might be more helpful if we had more responses to the survey and could break them down by grade level.

As a committee, we encourage you to address your concerns with your classroom teachers, and with administration as necessary. This feedback will be given to the new leadership as well in order to have a starting point for next year.

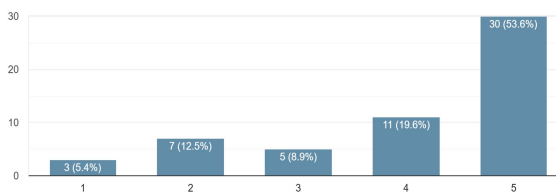

I am comfortable sharing concerns and ideas with administration and faculty.

Behavior Management/Social Emotional Learning

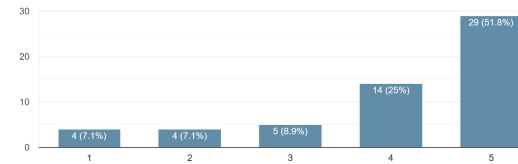

We continue to use the Monarchs with Merit Character Education Program, which centers around the virtues of faith, hope, charity, prudence, justice, fortitude, and temperance. This also coincides with our Friendzy curriculum. These complementary lessons allow students to focus both individually on how to live a Christ-centered life and on how to build strong, healthy, and Godly friendships.

As the year continues, we will continue classroom lessons and conversations that guide students to identify and manage conflict, as well as understanding when it is necessary and appropriate to seek adult intervention.

Final Thoughts

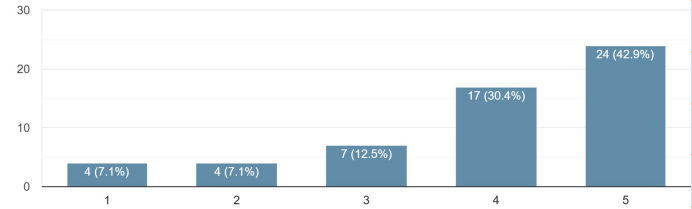

The data on these questions is overall positive, however it is difficult to make general statements when the survey represents roughly only 40% of our population.

As we move into next year, we invite you to consider how concerns might be addressed. In addition to bringing it to administrative attention via surveys/emails, we also encourage you to join committees and volunteer as much as possible to help effect positive changes for our school. Aside from being able to implement changes you want to see, it can also be helpful to see firsthand how much work and planning goes into each part of the school and events.

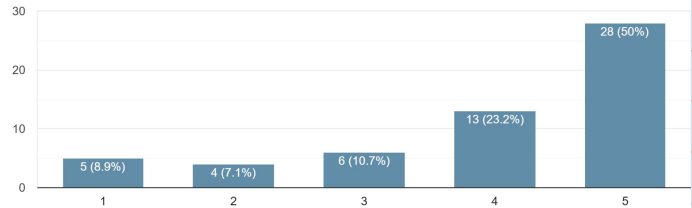

Thank you to those who participated and answered candidly, and we look forward to seeing even better results next year!
