CATHOLIC DIOCESE OF ST. PETERSBURG
COURAGEOUSLY Living the Gospel

From the Rector

Dear Friends,

We are mindful of students, educators, and those who serve in any way in the field of education, as we begin this new school year. It is our prayer that our community stand united in the shared value of educating our young people while assuring their safety and the safety of all teachers, staff, and administrators. Thank you, educators, for all that you do. Please know that you have not only our gratitude but our admiration for accepting the call to serve in one of the great vocations in life. Thank you also to our parents who serve as educators for your children in homeschooling and all parents who walk with their children as they make their journey to knowledge. I also want to appeal to all students that you put your whole heart in seeking to learn more and increase your knowledge. Don't do the minimal but always seek to learn more, living in a spirit of wonder, curiosity, and growth. Please know that we will be keeping all of these intentions in mind as we bless students and educators, and parents at all of our Masses this weekend.

Sincerely yours in Christ,
Fr. Tom Morgan
