Special Collection: World Mission Sunday

Next Sunday, 10/18

World Mission Sunday is celebrated by the Catholic Church worldwide to support essential missionary work. This year marks a landmark milestone—the 100th World Mission Sunday!

In his message for this centennial celebration, Pope Leo calls all Catholics to unity, love, and a renewed missionary commitment with joy and zeal in the Holy Spirit under the theme: "One in Christ, United in Mission." Please make checks payable to St. Mary's Church (with World Mission Sunday in the memo line). Thank you for your continued generosity!

Parish Book Study

A Bowl of Perfect Light by Megan McKenna

Join us this November as we read and discuss Megan McKenna's A Bowl of Perfect Light. Drawing from a rich variety of sources, this book offers uplifting stories of forgiveness, reconciliation, and repairing the world to help deepen our faith and strengthen our love for others.

- How to Participate: Purchase a copy of the book and join us for weekly discussions starting in November.
- Meeting Options: Morning and evening sessions available on Wednesdays ; 11/11, 12/9, 1/13,2/3 @ 9:30 -10:30 AM & 7:00-8:00 PM
- Questions: Contact the Parish Office for more information.

Baptism

Congratulations to Sophie Farrell, Penelope Gibbons, & Emilia Przybylowski who were baptized into Christ this past weekend.

Good Parents, Good Coffee

Join Our Committee - Low Time Commitment, Big Impact!

Good Parents, Good Coffee is a once-a-month panel & small group gathering for parish parents. We are looking for committee members to help support these warm, intergenerational community sessions!

- What's Involved: Simple volunteer tasks like setting up food, brewing coffee, cleaning up, and welcoming families.
- Time Commitment: Very flexible! Only 1-2 meetings per year, plus helping at any of the 7 Sunday sessions (8:15 AM or 10:45 AM). Help with one or all!
- Get Involved: Email Jen Shiman at shimans@comcast.net

Sacraments of Vocation

The final two Sacraments, Matrimony and Holy Orders, are known as Sacraments of Vocation, a “calling” from God.

There are three “levels” to Holy Orders. The first is the Order of Deacon. Deacons trace their foundation back to the choosing of “seven reputable men” to assist the Apostles in the distribution of the temporal goods of the community as recounted in Chapter 6 of the Acts of the Apostles. Deacons are ordained specifically for the Ministry of the Word, Eucharist and Charity/Service. In liturgical settings, Deacons proclaim the Gospel, can preach the homily and assist at the altar and with the distribution of Holy Communion during Mass. Deacons baptize, celebrate weddings outside of Mass, and lead the Funeral Rites outside of Mass. Deacons may also offer blessings for people and objects as appropriate, including the Eucharistic Blessing at Benediction. In light of their original calling in Acts, Deacons are to be models of service and charity, particularly service to the poor. Some Deacons are “transitional” meaning they will continue towards ordination to the priesthood. There is also the opportunity for men to become ordained a deacon as a permanent ministry. These Deacons can be married and have families.

Priesthood is the second of the Holy Orders, and priests (presbyters) likewise trace their origins back to New Testament times as co-workers with the bishop. When communities of Christians grew in number beyond that which the one bishop could serve, presbyters were chosen to assist the bishop. In addition to all that Deacons do, Priests are called to preach the Word, preside at the Eucharist and to consecrate Holy Communion for the faithful. Priests also celebrate the Sacrament of Reconciliation, hearing confessions and absolving sins. Priests celebrate the Anointing of the Sick, which may include the absolution of sins and the granting of the Apostolic Pardon when a person is in danger of death.

Bishops, as the successors to the Apostles receive the fullness of Holy Orders. They minister in all the ways Priests and Deacons do but also have the specific responsibility to administer Confirmation to Catholics baptized and catechized as children, and to confer the Sacrament of Holy Orders. Bishops have governance responsibilities within the diocese to which they are assigned by the Pope. They serve as “chief shepherd” of their flock in the ministries of Teaching, Sanctifying and Governing. As co-workers with the Bishop, Priests and Deacons are assigned by their Bishop to the parishes or ministries in which they serve, and are given canonical faculties by him, in order to celebrate the sacraments for and with the people.

The “calling” to Holy Orders involves an interior draw to ordination, a feeling that it is not something the person is choosing for himself, but a feeling of being chosen by God for the ministry. That call has often been described as an inner “nagging” about becoming a deacon or priest that is hard to dismiss. It is often accompanied by other people who affirm those qualities about the person that would make a good deacon/priest, or even a more direct affirmation of that vocation. If you are reading this and feel you might be called to ordained ministry, feel free to reach out to me or another priest, or our vocation director, Fr. Federico, to discuss your experience of being called and how you might discern that vocation. Visit www.archdioceseofhartford.org and select “Vocations” from the menu for more information.

Thank you from Fr. Rick...Dear parishioners of St. Mary's:

The night before Fr. Terry died, he called me with much enthusiasm about the mission appeal at your parish to benefit the mission here in Haiti. I know he was a motivator for your generous help, reaching the poor here in Haiti, who are living in excruciating difficulty.

Our institutions are still managing: two hospitals, 8 clinics and 36 schools. There is nothing easy about it, but God gives us strength and grace. But our corporal and spiritual works of mercy are greatly expanded for victims of massacre, victims of gunfire, refugees driven from their communities by gangs, for the destitute dying and victims of kidnapping.

Fr. Terry's last enthusiasm, and your generous efforts, have resulted in a donation from your parish of $21,659. This is truly extraordinary and I am both humbled by and grateful for this huge support. I thank you most sincerely and wish for each of you and your parish community abundant blessings from God, who is always so gracious and generous and merciful.

Best personal regards and thanks,
Fr Rick Frechette CP
